Editorial by the President

Controversy over Collegiality
The Executive Committee invited Dr. Robert Ratzlaff to discuss the insertion of collegiality into departmental tenure and promotion criteria. Dr. Ratzlaff believes strongly in including this criteria in tenure guidelines. However, PSU/KNEA has concerns about inserting a criteria that is "not defined" into expected performance guidelines of a faculty member. Collegiality is not described in the three general areas (teaching, scholarship, service) for tenure and promotion in The Core of Academe (Appendix A, Agreement between PSU/KNEA and PSU/Kansas Board of Regents, 1999-2002).

I am hoping that faculty consider the implications of adding collegiality to tenure criteria. What does this really mean? Who will best be served by adding collegiality to the criteria? How does this impact departmental tenure decisions? How will collegiality be evaluated by those evaluators in the process?

How will decisions be defended?
