

Pittsburg State University

CONTINUING AND GRADUATE STUDIES

Welcome to the Graduate School at PSU

Welcome! Thank you for your interest in the Graduate School at Pittsburg State University. I congratulate you on considering a graduate degree, for it requires a commitment to excellence. Everyone at Pittsburg State University is eager to assist you on your path towards a Master's or Specialist degree.

The main focus at Pittsburg State University is service to students. An outstanding faculty, state of the art mediated classrooms, and campus-wide wireless internet access provide students with a high quality and enjoyable educational experience. Convenience is a priority, also. Evening classes, along with multiple off-campus sites and numerous online courses allow nearly anyone to pursue a graduate degree.

Pittsburg State provides excellent opportunities for international students. The diverse student population includes students from over forty different nations. In addition, many faculty members have valuable international teaching experience.

Information about the wide array of Master's and Specialist degree programs offered can be found under the Academic Majors section on this web site. For additional information about programs offered, please visit or call the appropriate department or contact the Continuing and Graduate Studies Office.

Thank you for taking time to explore the wonderful opportunities that Pittsburg State puts at your fingertips. I hope that Pittsburg State University is the choice for you and I look forward to welcoming you as a part of this outstanding community.

Sincerely,
