General Education

This course counts toward the requirements in General Education for your degree program. General Education is an important part of your educational program at Pittsburg State University that has been designed to implement the following philosophy.

Philosophy of General Education

General education is the study of humans in their global setting. The general education curriculum, therefore, acts as the heart of a university education by developing the capacities that typify the educated person and providing a basis for life-long learning and intellectual, ethical, and an esthetic fulfillment. General education examines the world around us and fosters and understanding of our interactions with the world and our place in the universe. General education celebrates the creative capacities of humankind and helps to preserve and transmit o future generations the values, knowledge, wisdom, and sense of history that are our common heritage.

Goals of General Education For This Course

This course contributes to the overall purpose of the General Education program by:

- 1) Providing the students with the basic knowledge and skills in a foreign language that will enable them to participate more effectively in our global society. (1.1,1.2)
- 2) Stimulating critical thinking and encouraging decision-making free from prejudice or insularity. (2.1, 2.4)
- 3) Promoting an appreciation of different cultures. (Goal # 4.ii.3)

However, the emphasis of this course will be to help the students meet the following objectives for the understanding and appreciation of a variety of cultures and their interrelationships. (3.1, 3.2)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- 1.1 Recognize the value of diverse cultural, national and ethnic backgrounds.
- 3.3 Demonstrate an understanding of the relationships of gender, race, and class within and across cultures.

These objectives are met through a variety of means, including

- Reading, analysis, and discussion of cultural information about the countries and regions where the target language is spoken
- Discussion of authentic materials that show the diversity of the people who speak the language. Such authentic materials include audiotapes, videotapes, pictures, music, and internet resources among others.
- The practice of situations that show the sociolinguistic appropriateness of language use in different communicative instances.

Retro-Credits

The department of Modern Languages and Literatures has a retro-credits program designed to reward students who have already spent years learning languages in high school. Students must sign up for the program with Kathy Dyer, Department Secretary, during the first three weeks of the semester in which they take their first language course at PSU. That course determines their entry level and the maximum credits they can earn through retro-credits.

Course Description

A continuous course of Korean1 with more emphasis on comprehension as well as proper usage of the spoken language and appreciation of Korean culture, leading to the ability to function at a description: basic-intermediate level.

Objectives

The purpose of this course is to develop students' necessary communicative skills in practical, everyday situations, using the basic-intermediate level of Korean. Students can improve Korean proficiency through listening speaking, reading and writing activities. Korean culture will also be introduced so that they function effectively in a specific situation.
