

PSU ART

Fall 2015 Exhibitions

Pittsburg State University
Museum
of Art

CORY PEEKE a higher education

EXHIBITION:

August 24 - November 5, 2015

ARTIST'S TALK:

September 3 3:00 - 4:00pm

RECEPTION:

September 3 4:00 - 6:00pm

The Flow of Information, 2014, Cory Peeke

Pittsburg State University
University Gallery

The largely ignored and seemingly inconsequential bits of ephemera that once had a purpose, still have a presence, but now idle in disuse. He combines, layers, juxtaposes, glues, tapes and re-contextualizes these bits and pieces of detritus in order to reincarnate and recharge them. Through the process of collage these snippets of the past combine to become something both fresh and familiar.

Pittsburg State University
University Gallery

Daniel Hunt regularly employs recycled cast aluminum and iron, steel and wood to generate sculptures and installations, often building the equipment necessary to cast metal. Incorporating narrative and iconographic imagery with a humorous edge, Daniel Hunt's ideas are inspired by the experiences of living and the study of Theology, which are often shaped by music, literature, film, art history and hot rod culture.

Lucky feet, Magic Holes, 2015, Daniel Hunt

DANIEL HUNT Lucky Feet, Magic Holes

EXHIBITION:

November 16, 2015 - February 6, 2016

ARTIST'S TALK:

November 13 3:00 - 4:00pm

RECEPTION:

November 13 4:00 - 6:00pm

Pittsburg State University
Harry Krug Gallery

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE PITTSBURG STATE UNIVERSITY PERMANENT COLLECTION

EXHIBITION:

September 14, 2015 - January 8, 2016

CURATOR'S TALK WITH DR. LI-LIN TSENG:

September 17 3:00 - 4:00pm

RECEPTION:

September 17 4:00 - 5:30pm

The Pittsburg Museum of Art presents highlights from its diverse permanent collection of works of art. The current presentations include a range of artists, from paintings, prints, photographs and sculptures. Curated by Museum of Art Director, Rhona McBain, and PSU Art Historian, Dr. Li-Lin Tseng.

First Among Chiefs, 1985, Rod Klaprowac

Pittsburg State University
Art Connectors Community Gallery

RADIAL DESIGN: SACRED CIRCLES

EXHIBITION:

September 14 - October 22, 2015

Pittsburg State University's Art Education Program invites the public to an interactive exhibit of studio projects and research celebrating the visual arts. Viewers create their own artworks to add to the collaborative display walls and take home a gallery guide.

FAMILY ART DAY

September 19, 2015

1:00 - 4:00 pm

Explore the Pittsburg State University's Permanent Collection exhibition in the Harry Krug Gallery and participate in activities to discover how to curate your own show and start a collection.