Charlotte's Web

A tale of friendship, loyalty, and determination.
A Note from the Chair
Dr. Cynthia Allan

Department of Communication
Welcome to the 2015-2016 season of the Pittsburg State Theatre! This is our first full season in the wonderful Dotty and Bill Miller Theater here at the Bicknell Family Center for the Arts. The facility is a wonderful and intimate space for live performance. We look forward to many wonderful years in our new theatre “home” here at Pitt State. Our first production, last spring’s Eurydice, was a rousing success and allowed us to stretch our wings in ways we have not had before.

It also gives me great pleasure to take this opportunity to thank the alumni of the Pitt State theatre program. The excellent productions created by scores of previous students are, in part, what helped cement the support and belief in the theatre program and the need for a real performing arts center. Whether you currently work in the theatre profession or not, your dedication to Pitt State Theatre while a student is appreciated and respected. You are the legacy of this program and you set the bar high. We honor you and thank you. Our alumni reunion last spring was a great success and we plan to have more on a regular basis.

The 2015/16 season begins October 22-25 with Charlotte's Web, the beloved tale of friendship, loyalty, and determination that will enchant the entire family. Directed by Megan Westhoff, this production is sure to be a hit.

Then, on December 3-4, we continue our tradition of Theatre Unplugged with the student-directed one-act plays produced in the Studio Theatre (entrance on Joplin Street). The Studio Theatre remains the venue we will use for the majority of student productions. Also included in this year’s offering is an original script by graduate student, Marisa Hunn.

In the spring of 2016, Gil Cooper directs the raunchy and bawdy Shakespeare comedy, The Merry Wives of Windsor, in from February 25-28. This classic comedy is bound to help you shake off those winter blues! Finally, on April 21-24, Caitie Almond directs Neil LaButes The Shape of Things, a scathing contemporary drama about two students at a small Midwestern college. Hmm…sound familiar? You definitely don’t want to miss this one!

Finally, I want to remind our patrons that the move to a new space means new opportunities for PSU Theatre. One of these opportunities is the chance to offer more performances and we are pleased to announce the addition of Saturday matinees for each of our productions. This now provides 3 evening and 2 matinee productions. We hope you join us whatever time is convenient for you!

I am sure the faculty, staff, and students of the Department of Communication and PSU Theatre join me in expressing our gratitude for your support and our sincere hopes that you enjoy the 2015/16 season.

Regards,
Dr. Cynthia Allan
Although it may seem obvious, my favorite children’s novel is Charlotte’s Web by E.B. White. I remember having it read to me for the first time in the second grade and years later reading it on my own. I have always been captivated by the honesty and innocence in Fern, Wilbur, and Charlotte and their friends’ lives.

Through this production process, I was surprised to learn that many others were first introduced to the characters by having the story read to them. To pay tribute to the fact that many heard the story for the first time, the narrators serve as an example of a modern family reading it to a younger family member while the characters’ adventures come to life around them. The narrators also bridge the gap between a modern audience and the time period of the original story in 1952.

E.B. White was unhappy with the adaptations other than this stage version of Charlotte’s Web because he believed they intended to make the story perpetually positive and happy. The journey of life is unpredictable and White advocated that the story remain happy at moments, sad in others and end with a feeling of hope.

Charlotte’s Web is endearing 63 years after it was written and the themes of friendship, loyalty and determination still resonant today. It is a story of growing up and learning that adversity can be faced with the help of our dearest friends. As Wilbur tells his friends, “I can face anything with friends like you. Friendship is one of the most satisfying things in the world.”

I hope for a moment you are transported to a time of a serene and idyllic existence and enjoy the Charlotte’s Web storybook coming to life.
RISKY BUSINESS

A PRACTITIONER & EXPERT PANEL
presented by the PSU Department of Communication

Thursday, November 5, 2015 | 9:00 - 11:00am
Bicknell Family Center for the Arts - Miller Theatre
No tickets required

Audacious Boutique
Unique and trendy women's clothing, accessories, and shoes.

Kelly Sigg
Owner
Phone 620-308-6086
Mon-Fri 10:00-5:30
Toni Taylor
Manager
Sat 10:00-5:00
511 N. Broadway, Pittsburg, KS
The first time I became familiar with this story was when it was read to me in grade school. We read it as a class and I haven’t forgotten it since. I’m so excited to do this show and demonstrate the message of friendship and selflessness that is so central to this story.

- Breezi Hancock (Wilbur)

My first experience with Charlotte's Web was when I was a young girl of about eight years old... my mother needed to get me out of her hair, so she whipped out the good ol’ VHS cartoon and sat me down in front of the TV. I was obsessed with that movie for about a week after watching it, and I always looked up to Charlotte as a sort of role model. So brave, so smart, and so small. Getting her role in this production was an absolute honor!

- Jaley Hoyt (Charlotte)
Centennial Liquor, LLC.
2308 S. Rouse
Pittsburg, Ks 66762
620-232-3700

Open Sunday
12:00-8:00 p.m.

Owners:
Gay & Kent Grisham

---

Broadway Producciones
Theatre make-up, costumes, custom t-shirts
And now you Halloween Headquarters

216 South Broadway Street Pittsburg, KS 66762
(620) 231-5416

---

Pitt Discount Liquor
Don and Jesse Hudson

All Major Credit Cards Accepted

1001 S. Broadway
Pittsburg, KS 66762
620-231-2626
Quality Selected coffee, roasted in small batches for pure perfection. No big production, just great coffee. Espresso + homemade sweets+beans+tea+brewed coffee coffee supplies + merchandise
206 S Broadway St

I was first introduced to Charlotte's Web by my 5th grade teacher, Mrs. Croaker! She was a drill sergeant and very stern, yet, she read this book to us before she invited us to her farm for a picnic. There was a barn full of spring spiders that were terrifying! In her own way, she was trying to comfort us about her barn filled with animals and spiders. Even though the story is sweet and precious and Mrs. Croaker wasn’t, I still find the story endearing!

Susie Lundy (Sheep)
My first experience of Charlotte’s Web was a VHS tape I would watch while eating breakfast before Grade School. I was captivated by the transitional scenes marking the seasons. Calendar pages would turn and leaves or snow would fall. It’s a vivid memory I can still recall over twenty years later.

I’ve watched this movie Charlotte’s Web when I was in elementary school. I love this movie sooo much! The Lamb hates everything at first, just like a teenager which is absolutely at the same age as me, 18 years old. However, I don’t usually act in a nasty way in the reality. After knowing the new border, Wilbur, more, I started feeling that I don’t hate her that much, even becoming to like her and wanting to help her.

Yuki Chou (Lamb)
Charlotte’s Web
Based on the book by E.B. White
Adapted by Joseph Robinette
Directed by Megan Westhoff*
Scenic and Lighting Designed by Linden Little
Costume and Makeup Designed by Lisa Quinteros

Characters (in order of appearance)

Narrator: Alice .............................................................. Ilia Phelps*
Narrator: Rachel ......................................................... Jocelyn Donegan*
Narrator: Tessa ......................................................... Grace Hendrickson
Wilbur ............................................................... Breezi Hancock*
Fern Arable ............................................................ Marisa Hunn*
Martha Arable ......................................................... Courtney Blakenship
John Arable .............................................................. Brandon Norton
Avery Arable .............................................................. Stephen Reida
Edith Zuckerman ..................................................... Megan Reed*
Homer Zuckerman .................................................. Alexander Warstler
Lurvy ................................................................. Melissa Long
Goose ................................................................. Katia Arians
Gander/Uncle ......................................................... Logan Qualls*
Templeton .............................................................. Krista Hightower
Sheep ................................................................. Susie Lundy
Lamb ................................................................. Yuki Chou
Charlotte ............................................................... Jaley Hoyt
Reporter/Fairgoer/Judge/Spider .............................. Skyler Jones
Announcer/Spider .................................................... Hayley Rawson
Fairgoer/Judge/Spider .............................................. May Hsu

Time: 1952 and 2015
Place: The Narrators’ Home, The Arables’ Farm, the Zuckerman Farm, and the County Fair

Produced by special arrangement with THE DRAMATIC PUBLISHING COMPANY of Woodstock, Illinois

No flash photography or video recording is permitted during the performance. Please make sure ALL cell phones are turned off. For the comfort of other audiences members, please take crying or fussy children to the lobby.
Production Staff

Technical Director ................................................................. Linden Little
Stage Manager ........................................................................... Katlyn Weve
Assistant Stage Manager .................................................. Catherine Duncan
Props ..................................................................................... Lindsey Viets *
Running Crew ........................................................................... Eric Davis
............................................................................................. Stephanie Powers
.............................................................................................. Melissa Santiago
Light Board Operator ......................................................... Caitie Almond*
Sound Board Operator .................................................... Nick Strang
Multimedia Designer ......................................................... Leo Hudson
Lead Costume Technician .................................................. Barbara Davis
Costume Construction ....................................................... Michaela Gardner
............................................................................................. Corin Cooper
.............................................................................................. Eric Davis
Hair Design ............................................................................. Mary Lou Farmer
Make-up and Hair Crew ........................................................ Eric Davis
............................................................................................. Katlyn Weve,
............................................................................................. Megan Reed*
............................................................................................. Hayley Rawson
.............................................................................................. Jamera Allen
............................................................................................. Ayman Syed
Scenic Construction ........................................................... COMM 363 Technical Production I Class,
............................................................................................. Caitie Almond*, Alex Hermanson, Megan Reed*, Michael Holleron,
............................................................................................. Grace Hendrickson, Katia Arians, Brandon Norton, Melissa Long
House Manager ......................................................................... Olivia Ellison

Theatre Staff

PR/Advertising Manager ...................................................... Laura Stock
Poster/Program Art ............................................................. April Huninghake
Production Photographer .................................................. Paige Bowman

* indicates members of Alpha Psi Omega, Theatre Honor Society
Special and Sincere Thanks to:

Pittsburg Community Theatre
Brett Warstler
Ali Smith
Mimi Little
Jason Huffman and Memorial Auditorium and Convention Center

Mike Gullett
J J & M
The Quizzles
Ainslee Magee
Alexander Warstler
Jack and Judy Richardson
Alan Ross
Blue Ribbon Farm and Home

Pittsburg State University Career Services
620-235-4140 www.pittstate.edu/careers

Employers, students, and alumni
Find the perfect employee... or find the perfect job!

Loree's
BRIDAL & FORMAL
524 N. BROADWAY
PITTSBURG, KANSAS 66762
620-235-0286 FAX 620-235-0841
LOREEBRIDALFORMAL@YAHOO.COM
Pittsburg State University

Bicknell Family Center for the Arts
2015-2016

MET Rising Stars
Remarkable young opera stars at the cusp of extraordinary careers.

OCT 18 2015 7:30PM

HOT SARDINES
One of New York City’s Hottest Jazz Bands!

OCT 22 2015 7:30PM

The Band of the Royal Marines
United States Tour 2016
Featuring the Band of the Royal Marines and the Pipes, Drums & Highland Dancers of the Scots Guards

FEB 13 2016 7:30PM

MATTHEW MAYER
World renowned pianist and composer in concert

FEB 20 2016 7:30PM
Charlotte’s Web impacted me because it taught me that friends come in all shapes and sizes. Charlotte and Wilbur became best friends despite their many differences. It also taught me that true friends stick around and do everything they can to help when things get hard. Charlotte saved Wilbur’s life by writing in her web. These two friends are true role models for people of all ages.

Skyler Jones (Reporter/Fairgoer/Judge/Spider)