C&M Enterprises will be providing training on Analysis of Changes under the 2017 NEC

Analysis of Changes to the 2017 NEC®

This overview & analysis provides a jumpstart into the more significant changes which impact all electrical work. Over 4,100 public inputs and 1,500 public comments (to those inputs), processed by twenty code making panels, have shaped the 2017 NEC® into a document unlike its predecessor. While all of the changes cannot be covered in this training event, this course is intended to provide detail into the more significant changes adopted into the 2017 National Electrical Code®. The accompanying coursework, "Analysis of Changes, 2017 NEC®", published by the International Association of Electrical Inspectors® provides attendees with "up-close-and-personal" insight and detailed reference into approximately 250 of the more crucial changes to this latest version of the NEC®. While NEC® codebooks may be helpful and always recommended, this course is designed to provide all the necessary information to explain & understand the latest changes without additional materials. The PowerPoint presentation and the coursework provided for this training will ensure maximum exposure to the more significant changes and allow for attendees to reference all of the significant changes (with accurate and authoritative interpretations) easily after the seminar via the detailed coursework published by IAEI®. This course is especially suited for contractors, tradesmen, design professionals, code officials, & individuals with a "need-to-know" regarding the latest version of the NEC®. Attendees will be able to recognize and analyze the changes which impact both new and existing electrical installations. Highlighters & sticky notes may be useful during this course (not provided).

This course qualifies for 6 contact hours of Code based continuing education for Kansas electricians for more information see: CandMenterprises.net
