

ML Major for Native Speakers of French or Spanish Guidelines

Modern Languages Major for Native Speakers of French or Spanish

Catalog description

Native speakers are encouraged to take courses in French or Spanish. Students who graduated from high school in a French- or Spanish-speaking country may fulfill coursework for a major in Modern Languages by completing 15 hours of upper division courses in the native language, French or Spanish. Native speakers of any language taught in the department are not allowed to enroll in lower-division courses in that language. Consult with the chairperson of the department or the Modern Languages Program coordinator.
