

AMMT Production Techniques Fall 2019

Charlie Phillips Production Techniques students designed and produced 16 contemporary walnut desks for this year's class project. The walnut desks incorporated several unique features such as push to open/self closing drawer slides, powder coated metal legs, and a Corian writing surface. The students spent many nights and weekends working on the project. They look awesome! Well done AMMT!

